New Begonia Doty's Calla Queen
See Page 1

Easter—April 17th, 1949
April 9th, 1950

The war is and for three years has been over — but conditions are not even now "normal" as we knew them pre-war. Maybe they won't be again — times change and conditions with them. Some items are still short — as witness many Lilies this past Fall. Nothing is lost by early ordering of all items. Our prices are always in line with the market for merchandise of comparable quality — make your order subject to your approval of price to be advised before shipment if you prefer. While we have endeavored to make this catalog as comprehensive as possible — some items may not appear which we can supply. We welcome your inquiries on them. While we endeavor to maintain prices as listed — that is not always possible through the year — sometimes they are advanced by growers or manufacturers — occasionally reduced. We shall continue to do everything in our power to merit the confidence you have placed in us these past fifty-two years — and hope to continue in receipt of your good will.

Sidney H. Skidell

President.

All items in this list are offered subject to crop deliveries or failures, and being unsold on receipt of order, and other conditions beyond our control, and ALL PRICES ARE SUBJECT TO CHANGE WITHOUT NOTICE.

In the interest of time saving, we ask that you authorize us, when necessary, to substitute with the nearest similar size or variety.

"SSS" NORTHERN GROWN CANDIDUM

Our Special Strain Will Be Ready for Aug.-Sept. Delivery.
Let Us Quote on Your Requirements.

Plant bulbs immediately on arrival in a well drained soil, giving them plenty of opportunity for root action. The containers should then be set on a raised platform in a cool, semi-dark place, affording perfect drainage. When flower buds appear, the plants will then readily submit to forcing. They may also be planted out of doors for flowering in June and early July and later.

SUMMER FLOWERING BULBS AND ROOTS

FANCY LEAVED CALADIUMS

Brighter Colors. Bigger Leaves. More Leaves.

Caladiums are easily grown but should not be put in a Carnation temperature. Start the bulbs in flats, turning them upside down, since this is a crown-rooting bulb and the roots come out around the top (center) eye. This direct contact with the growing medium produces roots more quickly than the opposite method. Use a mixture of one part leaf-mold, one part good garden loam, and one part peat moss or other coarse neutral material, adding a small amount of coarse charcoal or other rubble for drainage. Press the bulb half-way into the soil and place the flats under a bench. The flats can also be placed on top of the flows, but if this is done they should be shaded. The temperature should be 80 to 85 degrees or higher, as the higher the temperature, the better starting results you will have. Be careful that the flats do not dry out if placed either on the flows or returns. Water sparingly until the bulbs begin to sprout and have roots 4 to 6 inches long. When the sprouts begin to show place the bulbs in 5 or 6 inch pots using good rich leaf-mold. Water copiously when in full growth and use weak liquid manure once weekly if possible.

GERBERA

Hersey's New Improved Duplex

The petal arrangement is duplex; that is: two or three layers of petals piled one above the other and giving added depth to the flowers. This duplexing has been accomplished without altering the delightful daisy disc in the center. Colors are white, yellow, orange, pink, and red, with many blendings of these colors to give hundreds of intermediate shades. Stems average 24 in. in length and the average size of bloom is 5 in. in diameter. It has been developed as cut-flower stock for high quality florist trade and should rapidly replace the old, common Transvaal Daisy because of its graceful beauty and its habit of growth, carrying ten to twenty flowers at the same time throughout a long blooming season.
